STRANGE PLANE MENACES WEST COAST

THREE JAP TRANSPORTS DESTROYED

BATAVIA, Feb. 25—Japanese attempts to assemble a new invasion fleet for an all-out onslaught against the island of Java met with a new setback today.

Three large enemy transports and several other unidentified vessels were sunk by United Nations aircraft in a lightning raid on a fleet concentration off Macassar in the island of Celebes.

(Editor's Note: The War department at Washington announced that a huge squadron of 23 Japanese bombers and fighters had been routed over Java by seven American Army P-40 pursuit planes. One enemy bomber and one fighter were shot down and six others damaged in the battle.)

The new sinkings occurred in the Straits of Macassar, where a few weeks ago the Japanese lost an estimated 60 out of a fleet of 100 naval vessels in the first major victory for the United Nations since the enemy turned its attention toward vital Java.

Dutch and American fliers under general command of Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell, supreme United Nations commander in the southwest Pacific, are taking every advantage of the present comparative lull in Japanese offensive operations.

The enemy is obviously having difficulty in Sumatra and fighting apparently is still under way on the island of Bali. Consensus was that the anticipated Japanese attack on Java—except for sporadic air raids at various points—is hanging fire.

Manhandling of their expeditionary fleet by Dutch and American air and naval units was held responsible and the enemy's efforts to organize and consolidate another armada are being consistently harassed.

LOS ANGELES GUNS FIRE AT NIGHT RAIDER

Sirens Scream, Big Anti-Aircraft Weapons Roar As Craft Soars Over Metropolitan District; Crashes Being Investigated

NO BOMBS ARE BELIEVED TOSSED

American Defenders Search Pacific Waters For Trace Of Carrier, Axis Submarine

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Feb. 25—The second enemy action of World War II on continental United States resulted in launching of an intensive sea and aerial search today for axis warcraft off the southern California coast by combined Army and Navy forces.

Formations of bombing planes which headed out to sea shortly after dawn looked for a possible aircraft carrier from which planes might have taken off last night in their visit over the Los Angeles area and an axis submarine which shelled a section of the coast near Santa Barbara Monday night.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25 — Anti-aircraft guns, fighter planes and huge searchlights were thrown into action for the first time on the United States mainland early today when an unidentified plane roared over Los Angeles and surrounding cities.

The barrage kept up intermittently from 3:10 a. m. (pwt) (7:10 a. m. Circleville time) until about 5:30, as the plane circled vital defense areas.

Two hours after the unidentified craft was sighted police received the report that a plane had crashed in flames in the southern section of the city.

Reports that two other planes were shot down were being investigated by police.

The unidentified ship was believed to have dropped no bombs during its flight, but police received several reports of a terrific explosion in the residential district at 43rd street and Western avenue.

Army officials refused to reveal whether United States planes had been sent out to bag the strange ship.

Planes Readied

It was learned, however, that when air raid sirens sounded at 2:27 a. m. Navy and Army pilots stationed at air bases throughout the district warmed up their ships and stood by for further orders.

Center of the action seemed to be over the Long Beach district, although anti-aircraft units at San Pedro, Huntington Park and Downey saw intense action.

Anti-aircraft guns at Fort MacArthur joined in the barrage and the concussion awakened the few remaining residents in the vast area who had not already been aroused from sleep by the wail of raid sirens.

The rumbling of the guns, shells bursting in and around the plane overhead and dropping of flares to further illuminate the target was seen by thousands of excited residents.

Single Plane Observed Amid the excitement of the moment reports varied on the number of planes overhead. It was generally believed that only one ship was overhead.

Army and Navy officials made no comment on the air battle at any time during the spectacular activity.

Numerous reports on fifth column activities filtered into police headquarters.

Los Angeles police reported that three Japanese were arrested along the waterfront. They were booked for investigation by the F.B.I.

They were picked up in a district where previously it had been reported that unidentified persons were flashing signals to either ships at sea or planes overhead.

Flashes Seen Mysterious alternate green and white light flashes from the La Brea hills section also were reported, giving added weight to the popular belief that enemy agents were active in the area.

British Reported Holding In Last Ditch Defense On Rangoon Front

By Leo V. Dolan INS War Editor

The blood-soaked Russian front leaped back into prominence on the worldwide theatre of war today as the Soviets announced another complete Nazi army has been caught in the Soviet dragnet.

Moscow reported the entire German 16th army has been encircled in a great battle in the Staraya Russia area northwest of Moscow and that so far 12,000 Nazis have been slain in the still continuing annihilation battle.

The London Daily Mail reported from Stockholm that the Russians have thrown 1,000,000 more men into the gigantic new Red army drive in a determined effort to recapture the Nazi-held strongholds of Vyazma, Rzhev and Smolensk.

Thousands of other Nazi casualties were reported in recent battles on other sections of the sprawling Russian front, particularly around Kharkov and on other southern and southwestern sectors.

Warfare still raged on a spreading scale in the Far East.

Planes Active From Washington, however, came dispatches stating American (Continued on Page Two)

'FRISCO REGION WILL TALK NEED OF EVACUATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25 — Plans for the possible evacuation of civilian populations in the event of danger in California's "target areas" will be discussed by the state defense council's evacuation committee in San Francisco tomorrow.

Governor Culbert Olson called the special meeting, and it was announced that Lieut. Gen. John L. De Witt, commander of the Fourth Army and western defense command, would attend.

It was believed the governor called the meeting as a result of the shelling of the Goleta oil fields by a Japanese submarine Monday evening.

CHIEF OF NAZIS SAYS WAR GOAL IS END OF JEWS

LONDON, Feb. 25—"Eradication of the Jews will be the final result of the present war," according to a message left with Germany today by Adolf Hitler in commemoration of his abortive Munich beer-hall "putsch."

A German radio broadcast picked up in London quoted Hitler as saying the end of the Jews would make "whatever the struggle brings — however long it takes."

In a message sent from his military headquarters, Hitler expressed regret that he was unable to attend the anniversary celebration of the Munich "putsch."

He said the unexpectedly severe Russian winter "which has not happened for more than a century" brought Nazi victories on the Russian front to a "temporary standstill."

But he said the end of the winter is now approaching and the worst of the cold weather finished. "It is impossible for me to leave while preparations are being made for the final struggle," Hitler added.

He called the war a "conspiracy hatched in the banking houses and extended in the Kremlin for the extermination of the Aryan nations and peoples."

WOOL CLOTHES HIT IN DECREE BY WAR BOARD

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 — The "all wool" label was a step nearer its demise today as the WPB took a second healthy slash at civilian wool consumption.

Net effect of the board's order was to ensure wool uniforms for members of the nation's armed services, while boosting the odds that your next year's suit will contain some sort of a mixture—mohair, cotton, rayon.

In making allotments for the second quarter of 1942, the WPB directed manufacturers to use only 20 percent of their basic wool poundage for production of worsted for civilian orders, and 10 percent on woolen production.

To offset the reductions of new wool available for civilian purposes, however, the board granted manufacturers permission to use larger quantities of lower quality wool and mohair in making suits for the man-on-the-street.

Jealous Chicago Youth Admits Killing Girl, 17, During Theatre Thriller

CHICAGO, Feb. 25—The theatre balcony murder of 17-year-old Dorothy Broz was solved today, police said, with the arrest and confession of Clarence McDonald, 17, a schoolmate, who was said to have been insanely jealous of the attractive girl.

She was shot to death in the balcony of the Palace theatre late yesterday by a youth who sat by her side and apparently was on the friendliest terms with her. A gangster thriller was on the screen at the time.

While the girl remained unidentified for hours, investigators were at a loss where to look for the slayer, but when she was recognized by relatives from a picture appearing in a newspaper,

EXPLOSION RIPS CLOTHING FROM NAZI DIPLOMAT

ANKARA, Feb. 25—The bomb-blast which narrowly missed Col. Franz Von Papen, Hitler's ace diplomat, as he walked along an Ankara street with his wife yesterday, exploded so close to him that some of his clothes were torn off, it was revealed today.

The second secretary at the American embassy, Joseph C. Satterthwaite, an eye-witness of the bombing, described the explosion as "terrific."

Both Von Papen and his wife escaped injury, Turkish police said, although an unidentified man "carrying a package" was killed and a woman passer-by injured. The package may have contained the bomb, according to police.

The blast occurred in front of the Italian embassy, apparently as Baron Von Papen and his wife were passing the building.

NEW BUSINESS TALKED AT C. OF C. GATHERING

New business for Circleville was being discussed Wednesday afternoon when the Chamber of Commerce committee on new business and industry, under the leadership of Eldred Cayce, manager of the Ralston-Purina plant, met at Betz restaurant.

Members of the committee include Herman Hill, James Adams, M. E. Noggle, H. L. Welker and W. E. Hilyard. Also present at the committee meeting was A. V. Osborn, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Mack Parrett, secretary.

1,993 DEFERRED TO PROVIDE FOR THEIR FAMILIES

Forty-four Pickaway county men have occupational deferments and 1,993 have dependency deferments from military service, a report released by the draft board Wednesday discloses.

The report shows a total classification of 2,954, which includes all men registered by the board up until the last registration. Men of the last registration will not be classified until after the national lottery.

The 44 men with occupational deferments fall into 2-A and 2-B classes. Class 2-A means occupational deferment for men necessary to the maintenance of public health and safety, and 2-B is occupational deferment for men essential in war industries. Class 3-A men are those with dependent, married men with families, or men on whose support the family depends.

The killing caused hardly a ripple of commotion in the theatre, except among the few who were in the balcony and witnessed the shooting. The program went on without halt and the balcony remained in darkness.

Engrossed in the showing of the thriller, "Sealed Lips," which had just followed the riotous comedy, "Heilza-Poppin'" the audience of at least 1,000 on the main floor seemed to think the girl's scream and even the shot which rang out immediately were a part of the show.

But in the balcony, where only a few persons were seated, some saw a youth dressed in gray who had been sitting with his arm about the girl, suddenly draw a gun and shoot her. He hesitated a (Continued on Page Two)

Uncle Sam May Require All Able-Bodied Men, Head Of Draft Warns

CHICAGO, Feb. 25—American industry today was on notice to prepare itself against the possibility that all of the nation's able-bodied men may be compelled to serve with the armed forces.

The warning was issued by Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national director of Selective Service, speaking before a dinner of 1,000 members of the Illinois Manufacturers' association and the Illinois Manufacturers' cost association.

Gen. Hershey asserted that at no time since the Civil War has the prospective need for men been so great. Efficient use of every man, woman and child in management and war effort must be made to release men from their civilian jobs for duty in the Army and Navy, he said.

MICHIGAN FIRM GRANTED $5,000,000 JOB BY ARMY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—Rep. Vorys, Republican of Ohio, said today that he had been authorized to announce that Army engineering offices in the Columbus, O., area had awarded a $5,000,000 contract to the Owens-Ames-Kimball company of Grand Rapids, Mich., for "supervision work" in the Columbus area.

No other details were disclosed. It was indicated in the capital city that the "supervision work" contract may be a part of the Groveport Army air base project. However, Army engineers gave Vorys no authority to make such a statement.

COUNTY TO SELL 30 NEW AUTOS

OCD Says That Number May Be Disposed Of During Three-Month Period

Pickaway county automobile dealers will be permitted to sell 30 new cars during March, April and May, Courtney Burton, Ohio civilian defense council director, announced Wednesday as he disclosed that 8,216 new car sales will be allowed in Ohio during the three month period.

From a reserve quota of 668 automobiles the state director may make any necessary county adjustments.

At the same time Burton gave out county quotas on passenger car tires and tubes and truck and bus tires, retreads and tubes for March alone. Pickaway county will be permitted to sell 20 tires, 17 tubes, for passenger cars, 89 tires for trucks, 38 retreads for trucks and 100 tubes for trucks.

Totals for the state include 5,436 tires and 4,549 tubes for passenger cars, and 13,990 tires and 15,724 tubes for trucks and buses.

JR. C. OF C. TO BE ORGANIZED IN CIRCLEVILLE

Plans for a Junior Chamber of Commerce were discussed Tuesday night when a group of young Circleville business men met at Memorial hall.

The group elected Robert Hemper, manager of Stone's Grill, as temporary chairman and during the meeting discussed the steps which would be necessary to secure a charter for the organization.

Speakers at the meeting were Robert Dresbach, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Chillicothe, and William Horr, Portsmouth, state vice-president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Chairman Hemper said that there was much preliminary work to be done before a local organization could be set up but that additional meetings would be held within the near future.

Axis Keeps Huge Force In Balkans

Yugoslav Couriers Claim 442,000 Soldiers Hold Captured District

CAIRO, Feb. 25—Shipping through the Nazi Gestapo net in the Balkans, special Yugoslavian couriers reached the middle east today, bringing with them "chapter and verse" information regarding enemy occupational forces.

This information—main points of which were revealed exclusively to International News Service — disclosed that 442,000 axis troops are garrisoned in Yugoslavia.

Their civilian victims in that territory number nearly half a million.

The whole Yugoslavian territory is occupied by 31 axis infantry divisions, which is 60 percent more troops than the enemy has in Norway and 30 percent more than in France.

These troops consist of 15 Italian, seven German, six Bulgarian and three Hungarian divisions. They total respectively 180,000 Italians, 112,000 Germans, 120,000 Bulgarians and 30,000 Hungarians.

The great bulk of these forces is concentrated in Serbia, where the wild Chetniks have been putting up a stirring battle against the axis occupational forces.

In Serbia there are 330,000 axis (Continued on Page Two)

GOTHAMITE, 41, ARRESTED FOR BEING WITHOUT CARD OF REGISTRATION

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 — Harry Rosenfeld, 41, was under arrest today charged with failure to carry his draft registration card with him. It was the first such arrest in New York since the initial Selective Service registration on October 16, 1940.

Violation of the Selective Service act carries a maximum penalty of five years imprisonment and $10,000 fine.

Army pilots who have been hammering Jap invaders in the Netherlands East Indies are believed indirectly responsible for the unusually long lull in fighting on the Bataan peninsula in the Philippines, where Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces have been making a magnificent stand.

Military observers contended the stiff and deadly performance of the American and other United Nations forces in the southwest Pacific has hampered the Japanese in the Philippines.

Meanwhile, continental units of the Army and Navy wrestled with enemy u-boat activities along the western and eastern American coasts. On the Pacific coast the nation's forces patrolled the shoreline to prevent a repetition of the shelling two days ago of a California oil plant. Two more torpedoings of tankers were announced by the Navy on the Atlantic coast.

British Holding

On the Burma front the British were making a last-ditch defense against the Japs along the Sittang river, and latest reports said the invaders were being held.

Meanwhile, Burma's capital, Rangoon, was being stripped for action. All civilians have departed to the North and only persons essential for defense have been left behind in the menaced city.

All preparations have been made to "scorch" Rangoon in the event it is forced to yield to the Japanese.

Canberra announced a new Jap air raid on Port Moresby, New Guinea, today. The attack occurred at noon. Bombs were dropped, but no further details were available.

On the island of Java, Dutch and other United Nations forces were ready to put up a terrific battle if and when the Japs try their expected invasion. Defenders of Java have received "no retreat" orders.

SOLONS DECIDE AGAINST PLAN FOR PENSIONS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—With repeal of their own pensions overwhelmingly voted by both houses, Congress today whittled the ax for "some 250,000 political jobholders" who members contend will be eligible for the retirement benefits under existing law.

The strange saga of the pensions, which unexpectedly turned out to come not as monetary annuities but as verbal brickbats from constituents, started six weeks ago when Congress with little fanfare voted to include its members, the president, cabinet officers, and other appointive jobholders in the civil service retirement benefits.

When the public became aware that congressmen had voted themselves pensions—despite the fact that they would virtually all have to be paid for at rates similar to those charged by private insurance companies—the uproar was instantaneous and terrific.

Caustic, bitter mail flooded congressional offices. A "bundes for congress" campaign was organized. The legislators gave up speedily.

Acting first the Senate voted 75 to 5 to repeal the pensions insofar as they pertained to elective officers and cabinet ministers. The House followed yesterday by voting for the same thing 389 to 7—a heavier vote than the 388 to 1 by which the House voted to declare war on Japan.

NEXT WEEK MAY FIND PARKING METERS READY

Work on installation of parking meters in downtown Circleville was progressing Wednesday as the service department was drilling holes for meter supports on Main and Court streets.

Since the holes must be drilled by hand, the work is taking a little longer than expected. Favorable weather should see the meters installed in a week.

JAPAN ANNOUNCES LOSS OF ADMIRAL SHIBUYA

Legionnaires will meet in their club rooms at 210 North Court street Wednesday at 8 p. m. Regular business will be conducted during the meeting.

There will be a cookie sale by Circle One of the Methodist church at the Gas office on Friday February 27, starting at 9:30 a. m. Cookies will be baked on a demonstration stove. Molds of home made mush will also be sold.

John E. Walters, Circleville township, is showing improvement at his home after being stricken ill recently at the Elks' home.

Trustees of the Pickaway Country club will meet Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at the club for a dinner and business meeting.

C. T. Gilmore, manager of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric company, is able to be at his office part of the time. He is making a good recovery after a recent illness.

War Bulletins

LONDON—The number of war prisoners in German camps stands today at 1,766,000, a Daily Mail dispatch from Geneva said, quoting "officially compiled" figures. The estimate does not include camps in occupied France or Russia, or the Balkans, it was said.

CAIRO—A severe sandstorm hampered all land and air operations in the Libyan desert yesterday, the middle east high command announced today.

NEW YORK—Japanese planes extended air operations over Burma today, and scored a hit on a train carrying evacuees from Rangoon to Mandalay, the British radio reported in a broadcast picked up by CBS.

This dispatch was sent from an enemy country, whose motive in releasing news is likely to be propaganda. Axis claims should be credited only when confirmed by American or Allied sources.

TOKYO—(By Official Japanese Wireless)—Rear Admiral Shibusaki Shibuya of the Japanese navy was killed in action off Borneo yesterday, it was announced today.

CARACAS, Venezuela—Venezuela left with Nazi Germany today a strenuous protest against the sinking of the tanker Monagas near Aruba, Dutch West Indies, by a u-boat.

clerk at the west Los Angeles police station, said he clearly saw the plane when it was spotted by searchlights.

"I was standing in front of the police station," he said. "As I watched the searchlights, anti-aircraft fire broke out. I saw a plane that seemed to be up at least 20,000 feet. It looked like a butterfly."

Concussion of the shells was felt in downtown Los Angeles and flashes from the guns could be seen for miles away.

The fourth army interceptor command at San Francisco called the blackout in the Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and San Joaquin valley regions four hours after southern California was ordered on the "alert," indicating that possible enemy planes were approaching.

Shortly after the plane was sighted over Los Angeles, San Diego was blacked out. The action, however, apparently was confined solely to the Los Angeles area, according to first reports from coastal cities.

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 25—Portland's filter board crew members of the second interceptor command were put on their toes today by a "yellow alert" which extended from 5:07 a. m. until 7:35 a. m. (pwt), command officers announced.

The "yellow alert" signal is given when all interceptor posts are to be manned and made ready for any emergency.

Eugene's filter board center reported a similar alert Tuesday night.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Feb. 25—Shortly after anti-aircraft guns opened fire on an unidentified plane over Los Angeles early today, the San Diego area underwent a blackout which lasted until dawn. Blackout sirens sounded at 3:06 a. m.

Police and Navy officials said that there were no reports of any military action in the area.

The Italians in Montenegro likewise have asked Rome to send still more men.

PIGEON FANCIERS TALK OF SUMMER LAWN SHOWS

Plans for lawn shows for pigeon fanciers during the summer months were discussed at a meeting of the Pickaway county Pigeon club Tuesday night.

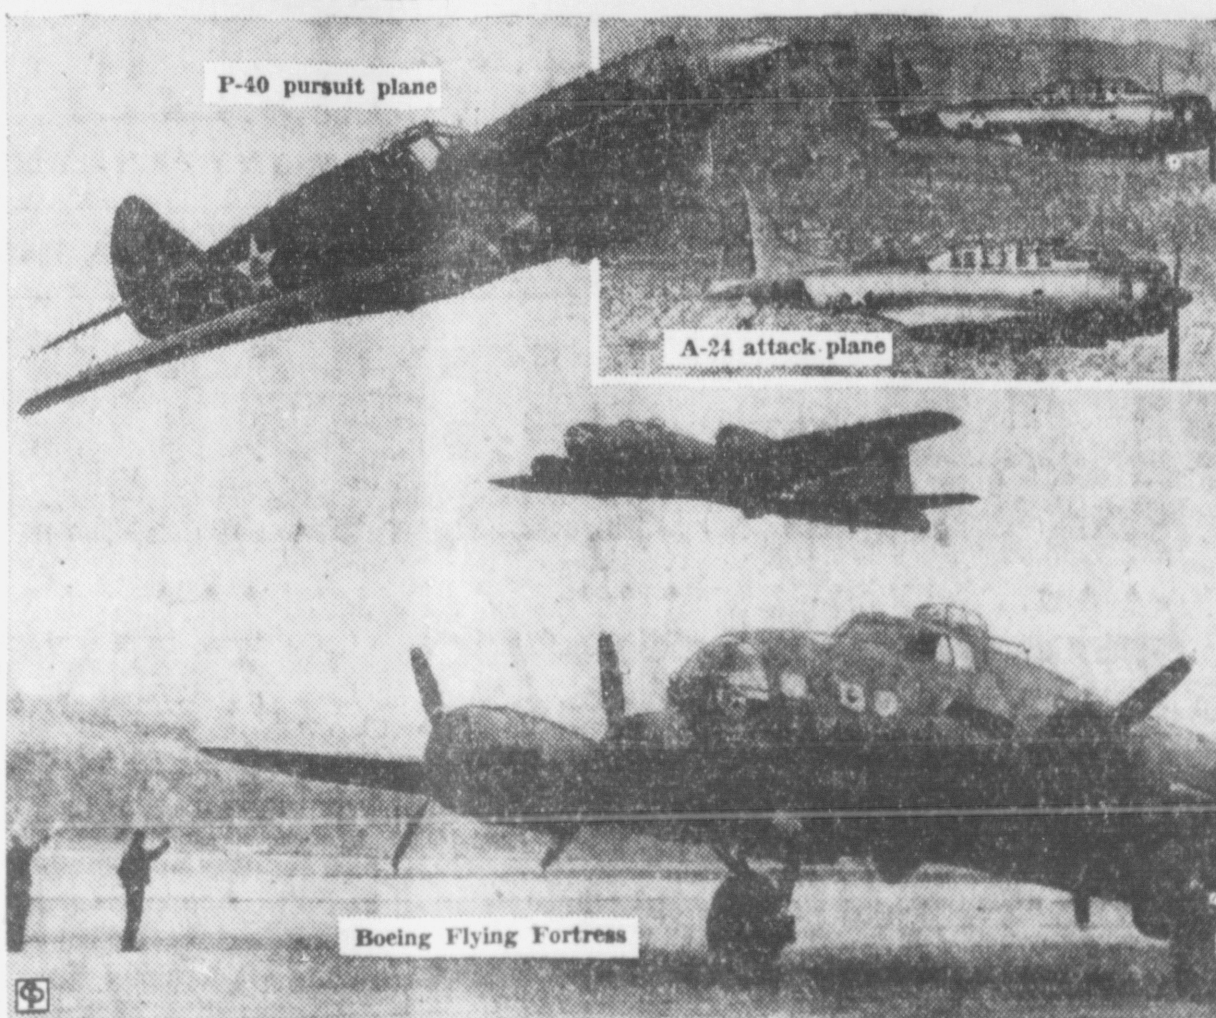

Members of the club, meeting at the home of Tom Lake, 517 Elm avenue, plan to hold their summer sessions out of doors with members exhibiting some of their birds.

Also discussed during the meeting Tuesday night was the pigeon show which will be held next fall in connection with the Pumpkin show.

Members decided to hold their March meeting at the home of Paul Johnson, Northridge road. Tom Lake, president of the club, presided at the meeting and lunch was served following the business session.

If things look bad now, recall the spring of 1917. The allies had just suffered a fearful reverse on the western front, and submarines were sinking so much British shipping that Admiral Jellicoe reported Great Britain would have to surrender by November 1. Then we got going.

THESE U. S. PLANES SINK JAP SHIPS OFF JAVA

Dispatches from the Dutch East Indies reveal that pilots of the United States Army Air Corps are piloting the three types of planes pictured above into battle against the Japanese forces attempting to invade the island of Java. The Flying Fortresses, carrying large bomb loads, have done great damage to the enemy invasion fleet, as have the A-24 attack planes, which are dive bombers, reputed to be better than the German Stukas. The P-40's accompany the bombers to protect them, and also fight off Japanese bombers attempting to reach bases of the United Nations.

700 Killed When Ship Blows Up

Jewish Refugees From Romania Killed In Black Sea Disaster; Stray Mine Blamed

LONDON, Feb. 25—Seven hundred Jewish refugees were feared lost today following an explosion that sank the Panamanian steamer Struma in the Black sea, according to a Reuters dispatch from Istanbul.

The explosion apparently was caused when the ship hit a stray mine. A Turkish vessel the steamer Tohankaya, was reported sunk in the same locality.

There were no reports of any survivors, although a search was launched immediately.

The dispatch said the Struma, commanded by a Bulgarian captain and manned by a Bulgarian crew, was torn to pieces by the blast and sank within a few seconds. It was being towed by a tugboat five miles above the Bos-phorus when the explosion occurred.

The Struma arrived at Istanbul late last year for engine repairs before resuming a voyage from Romania to Palestine, Reuters said.

The ship was crowded with Jewish refugees from Romania, but remained anchored at Istanbul for two months waiting authorization to make the voyage to Palestine. Failing that, the vessel set sail for a return trip to Romania.

(Ankara radio declared the Struma arrived at Istanbul December 15 "under the pretence of engine trouble." The vessel's stay in port was prolonged while representatives of countries likely to receive the passengers were approached, the broadcast said. The refugees were meanwhile asked to return to Romania or continue the voyage to Palestine.

(The Romanian minister to Turkey stated the Jews had left Romania illegally and therefore under no circumstances would be allowed to return, Ankara radio said.

(When the refugees then showed no inclination to continue on their voyage or return, the Turkish government, it was said, had "no alternative" except to send the ship to Romania, "since the captain and crew were citizens of a belligerent nation, Bulgaria.")

VOICE...of the...PEOPLE

Circleville, Ohio
February 22, 1942

To the Editor
THE HERALD:

There probably is no better time to settle a question regarding the respect which should be given the American flag and our National Anthem than on or about Washington's birthday.

There having been considerable local discussion in Circleville regarding the question of saluting the flag and the anthem at indoor affairs, I wrote to the War department at Washington to ascertain whether there are any set national rules or regulations or traditions in respect to the salute at indoor gatherings.

I am advised by the office of the adjutant general that while there are no federal laws pertaining to anything other than the proper display of the flag, there are certain proprieties which should be observed with respect to both the flag and the National Anthem.

These proprieties are specified as follows:

SALUTE TO THE FLAG

During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag or when the flag is passing in a parade or in a review, all persons present should face the flag, stand at attention, and salute. Those present in uniform should render the right-hand salute. When not in uniform, men should remove the head-dress with the right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Women should salute by placing the right hand over the heart. The salute to the flag in the moving column is rendered at the moment the flag passes.

SALUTE TO NATIONAL ANTHEM

When the National Anthem is played and the flag is not displayed, all present should stand and face the music. Those in uniform should salute at the first note of the anthem, retaining this position until the last note. All others should stand at attention, men removing the head-dress. When the flag is displayed, the regular salute to the flag should be given.

Since all patriotic Americans are anxious to show the proper respect to our flag and National Anthem, and since it is rather a disturbing sight when a crowd of Americans appears to be disinterested or disinterested in paying proper respect when the flag passes by or when the National Anthem is played, I hope the foregoing advice from the War department will at least serve to inform our friends and neighbors of Circleville so that on proper occasions in the future we can all act in unison and give the proper salute to the flag or the anthem, or both, as the case may be.

80 TAKING RED CROSS COURSES IN FIRST AID

Men And Women Reporting To Leo Curtis For Vital Training

INDUSTRIES SEND GROUPS

Rural Communities Set Up Programs Also To Aid In Emergency

Nearly eighty persons are enrolled in Red Cross first aid classes in Circleville and during the coming weeks will receive four hours of first aid instruction each week to prepare them for community service in case of emergency.

First class for men was held in the council chamber Tuesday night where First Aid Instructor Leo Curtis of Kingston discussed the application of bandages, stoppage of blood flow and other preliminary first aid information. In classes to come enrollees will learn the steps in artificial respiration, measures to take in case of shock, how to apply splints, and other information.

Nearly 40 men attended the men's class Tuesday night. Included in the group were representatives from the police and fire departments and from the sheriff's office. Three of Circleville's industries, J. W. Eshelman and Son, Ralston Purina and Container Corporation of America, also sent representatives to the class.

Forty women are enrolled in the women's class, held Monday and Wednesday nights at Memorial hall.

First aid also is receiving attention from the Boy Scout troops of the community, where scoutmasters are placing emphasis on their first aid program. The scout program is expected to work in parallel with that of the Red Cross.

Communities throughout the county likewise are setting up the machinery necessary for first aid instruction for volunteers. In Walnut township, a first aid class for women is being organized by Mrs. Russell Hedges. Tentative plans call for the establishment of a men's class in that community if sufficient interest can be obtained, according to Wilbur Brinker, chairman of rural defense in Walnut township.

Two steps to amazing new pep...vitality...better looks!

A truly marvelous change can be brought about by overcoming miserable digestive complaints, under-weight, sluggishness, loss of appetite—all by two important steps—

● Restore vital digestive juices in the stomach... energize your body with rich, red blood!

If you are one of those unfortunate who have worked under a strain, failed to eat the proper foods, have been vexed by overtaxing worries, or have suffered with colds, the flu, or other illness...yet have no organic trouble or focal infection...and your red-blood-cells have become reduced in vitality and number...If your stomach digestion refuses to work properly, then here is what should help you!

S.S.S. Tonic is especially designed to build up blood strength when deficient...to revitalize and stimulate those stomach juices which digest the food so your body can make proper use of it in rebuilding worn-out tissue. These two important results enable you to enjoy the food you do eat...to make use of it as Nature intended. Thus you may get new vitality...pep...become animated...more attractive!

Build sturdy health
Because S.S.S. is in liquid form it begins its work as soon as you take it. Surprising results may be had by making the S.S.S. treatment a part of your daily diet. Thousands and thousands of users have testified to the benefits S.S.S. Tonic has brought to them and scientific research shows that it usually gets results—that's why so many say "S.S.S. Tonic builds sturdy health and makes you feel like yourself again." ©S.S.S. Co.

Second Ashville Sign-Up For Defense Duties Set

The next registration date, when we all of us in the community who have not already done so, are to put our names on the dotted line for civilian war service, is named by the registrars as Tuesday, March 3, at council house from 7:30 until 9:30, evening.

Same women, Edwina Schlegel and Marguerite Hoover as of the first registration, will again be in charge. Those registering for service at the first session, numbered 81. While this number was good, considering weather conditions, it is hoped to have a larger number to register next Tuesday evening.

The first bus of the newly established line, Circleville to Columbus, via Airport-Lockbourne, came rolling in for the Capital City this morning on scheduled time at 5:20 with no one aboard except bus drivers and manager. Took on no passengers here. Manager told us they'd be along again tomorrow morning, same time. Thought yesterday evening it would be a fine thing to have the band out to give this first bus over the new line a sort of reception and sendoff, but try best could do, only one member showed up and that of the Madison outfit of 60 years ago vintage.

Temperature this morning down on the corner was 24 above zero according gauge. . . . Mrs. Oda Helvering who was much used up last June with broken hip, was afoot in down town district yesterday and "getting along fine" she said. . . .Next Saturday is again junk collecting day and all are asked to make every contribution possible. . . .Brooks Campbell and family are now residents of Duval, moving from here Monday. Robert Cline and family occupy the dwelling made vacant by the Campbells, Curry property, Long street. . . . Our Wade Center is now employed at Memphis, Tenn. in a newly constructed, federal storage plant—Letter to the home people says "the place is fine and likes his job". . . . "Condition not good" report yesterday evening from Mercy hospital regarding the much injured Mrs. Arley Barnhart and her daughter Emma in auto wreck near Lithopolis Sunday morning.

Fellow Americans:

We have a big job ahead of us and all of us will have to cooperate to do that job effectively and efficiently. One thing we all can do—should do—and must do is to carry our own packages whenever it is possible.

If we carry our packages here it saves a great many essential materials for our armed forces. They carry on for us, let's carry on for them. Whatever we buy, let's carry it home if it is humanly possible.

A GATEWAY CLOSED
THE JAPS, who are a poetical and sentimental people, even in their killing campaigns, have changed the name of their newly-conquered Singapore. It is now "Shonan," which means "Light of the South."
It may be a light to Tojo and Hirohito, but it is a smoky torch to the civilized people that built and used it. Americans, excepting sailors and tourists who have been there, have little sentiment about it. Yet there are very practical reasons for mourning the loss of such gateways of the world as are now being seized and closed by the little brown men.
The world grows much smaller, in the ease with which mechanized marauders can range and loot. It grows larger, though, and harder for travel and trade, as the pirates of these times close one gateway after another against the uses of civilization.

THE CROWDED CAPITAL
WASHINGTON, by all recent accounts, is the best city in America to keep away from. Our national business, of which war has become the chief part, all centers there. The greatest bureaucracy in the world has expanded enormously and is still expanding. The news men report appalling density of population, with people still pouring in by tens of thousands, when they cannot find places to eat and sleep or even space to move along the sidewalks. They're driven to sleep on floors and in coat closets, and lucky is the new-comer who finds room for a suit case.
It should be the last place in the world for any American to invade now unless he has to. And people who are not needed there should leave, making it easier for the others to get their work done.

FREE SPEECH
"PROBABLY Robinson Crusoe, on his desert island, was the only man who ever enjoyed complete freedom of speech. Of course that freedom didn't do him very much good, for there was no one there to listen to him until Friday appeared; and on that fateful day his freedom became limited." So says Rodney L. Mott, director of the School of Social Sciences, Colgate University.
It's as well to remember sometimes that these civil liberties which we so rightly prize have their natural and automatic limitations. There's the case of George Sylvester Viereck, for example, whose

WORLD AT A GLANCE —By— Charles P. Stewart

PARTY politicians aren't in the least puzzled as to a satisfactory method of being as unified as the dickens against the Axis and yet waging a hot fight between Democrats and Republicans at next November's election. Chairman Edward J. Flynn and Joseph W. Martin, respectively of Aunty Democracy and the G.O.P., have made speeches explaining how the stunt is to be pulled off. The Democrats can't but be in a certain sense, on the defensive, since they have a big congressional majority and will be trying to hang onto it. The Republicans, in a present minority, and endeavoring to make sweeping gains, will be the offensive group. They can't possibly win control of the senate. Only a third of the senators are voted on at a time, and if they elect every one of their candidates for a seat in the upper legislative chamber, which of course there's no chance of, the G. O. P. margin will still be against 'em. It's too wide to be overcome at the coming contest. Sizeable gains are the most they can score, but they'd appreciate those. Inasmuch as the representatives' whole body is ballooned on every two years, though, it's a possibility for them to achieve an out-and-out majority in that branch, if their electoral vote's large enough.
It's a commonplace that a good offense is better than a defense. Therefore Democratic Chairman Flynn is doing his best to put his side upon an offensive basis, though the thing naturally is the other way about.
Flynn's Contention His story is that the Republicans are more interested in winning the November election than they are in winning the war—an accusation, intended to put 'em on the defensive, against it. He also appeals for unity behind the party in power, which is, however, more a defensive tactic, speaking politically.
As offensive leader, Chairman Martin's ammunition is accusatory, too.
His charge is that the democrats, losing things in Washington, have bungled our part in the United Nations campaign against the Axis, and he says the very reason the Republicans are so anxious to come out on top, in November, is to enable 'em to wage it more efficiently.
So there you are.
We're a unit as to our wartime objective, licking the enemy.
The issue is— Which party's competent to lead him in the shortest order and most devastatingly?
There IS one weakness in the Republican offensive.
If the G. O. P. could, by registering a victory at the polls, on Nov. 3, 1942, attain control of the executive administration and both houses of congress, it would be in a position now to pledge itself to a secret American prosecution of the war.
But it can't attain any such control.
With a majority in the house of representatives, it doubtless will be fixed to holler more loudly relative to alleged mismanagement by the administration and by the Democratic Party's incompetency, which its representative spokesmen will also surely allege.
G. O. P. Is Blocked But it won't be able to DO a thing—not with a Democratic president still in the White House and a Democratic majority still in operation in the upper chamber on Capitol Hill.
Contrariwise the Democrats just as surely will explain that their management would be 100 per cent according to Hoyle if only they didn't have that Republican gang in the lower house at the Capitol everlastingly hampering and interfering with them, for purely partisan reasons. Even if they DO make mistakes, the situation will give 'em an alibi.
It'll be, in short, a complicated congressional campaign—more so than the average, and hard to judge the merits of as it wags along. It may be a mean one, too, and maybe more because of national unification preachings than for any other single reason.
It isn't a case of a discussion of the desirability of changing horses in midstream.
Changing horses in such circumstances perhaps is bad business.
This, however, is a discussion of the desirability of partly changing 'em.

Edward J. Flynn, national committee chairman, already have made speeches explaining how the stunt is to be pulled off.

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—By all odds the most important thing the American people have got to understand about this war—and understand it quickly—is that the axis is gambling everything on 1942, while the United Nations are talking about victory in 1944.

And the danger — which few people seem to realize — is that desperate, ruthless dictators, willing to stake everything they have, including long range submarine attacks and landing forces 6,000 miles from home, may conceivably be successful in 1942.

After 1942, Axis dictators know, the slow-moving, lumbering industrial giant of the United States will swing into action. After 1942, for the axis, it will be too late.

This realization is why some Washington executives now are advocating more troop transports and merchant vessels which can be finished this year, rather than battleships to be finished in three years. That is why an all-important backstage debate now goes on between the Navy and Win-the-War-Now boys about switching turbines from 1944 battleships to 1942 troopships.

That is also why the Win-The-War-Now boys favor a stiff offensive. As Secretary Stimson said last week, carrying the war to the enemy's waters keeps their submarines out of ours.

SECRET (?) MAP

Joe Eastman, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, was holding a hearing on construction of a badly-needed pipeline for crude oil from Wichita Falls, Texas, to Savannah, Ga.

Vincent Shinkle, of Trans-American Pipe-line, was holding forth. He produced maps showing the mid-continent field this pipe-line would traverse; finally came to a map showing the U. S. naval and air bases in the Atlantic area which this pipe-line would supply.

Suddenly, up jumped Brigadier General Walter Pyron, strode to the hearing desk, ripped the map from the book.

"That map contains military secrets," he exclaimed. "Where did you get it?"

"From the National Geographic Society," replied Mr. Shinkle. "They have printed more than a million—all approved by the Army."

Interesting and irrelevant coincidence: Before he was recently commissioned in the Army, Brigadier General Pyron was a high official of the Gulf Oil Company.

We need a little defining of terms. When American freedom of speech means freedom for effort to destroy America, it is no longer a right to be preserved but treason to be dealt with as treason deserves.

Action of Drugs Commonly Used to Affect Flow of Blood

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

YESTERDAY in pursuing the series of essays to explain the scientific knowledge of the action of drugs, we referred to the drugs which act by producing changes directly in the nervous system. We said that another great group of drugs acted by changing the mass or flow of blood in a part. We wish to consider today this second group of drugs.

Dr. Clending will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Coffee is perhaps the best example. Coffee has well-known effects which everyone recognizes. It keeps you awake; it increases the flow of urine; it stimulates a feeling of well-being. It also has an action which you cannot feel, which is to stimulate the tone of the heart. It does all these things by increasing the flow of blood to a part.

Coffee has little, if any stimulating effect directly on the brain, but by increasing the blood flow to the brain, it produces mental activity, wakefulness and sleeplessness. The same thing occurs in the kidneys. They are overactive with coffee simply because more blood goes to them. The same thing occurs in the heart. The blood flow in the heart muscle is improved with coffee.

Effects of Tobacco
Tobacco, we said yesterday, was a typical habitually used drug whose effects are mostly due to the changes it makes in blood vessels. Opposite from coffee, it causes a spasm of certain blood vessels, for instance blood vessels in the heart, so that people who have angina are generally enjoined to give up smoking. It will even cause functional angina in some young people. Tobacco also causes a form of blindness, or amblyopia, which is temporary. This is largely effected by causing a spasm of the artery of the eye.

Another group of drugs acts in this way, but in an intermediate fashion by causing a spasm or a dilatation of the blood vessels. Thus the action of adrenalin and amyl nitrate are antagonistic. Adrenalin causes a spasm of most of the blood vessels, also a rise in blood pressure. After a good sized dose, the patient will be very pale

Orphan in Diamonds by LORENA CARLETON

ANETTE WINSLOW, 31, beautiful, and aspiring to fame on the stage, is introduced to LAURENCE PEYTON, top-ranking actor, and to AUGUST DRAKE, Peyton's leading lady, by DR. WALTER KIRKWOOD, struggling young M. D.

YESTERDAY: As Anette is about to begin one of her dramatic lessons with Professor Verrazano, Larry Peyton comes in, tells his old teacher that he can have Anette in the mood for a crying scene by Wednesday, and takes her out.

CHAPTER THREE

"I FEEL guilty," Anette said as they stepped from the elevator, "running away from my lesson."
"Don't be ridiculous," retorted Larry. "It's too beautiful a day to stay indoors. Why, I'll bet if we drove through Lincoln park we'd see the beginning of spring." He pushed her into a space in the revolving door and followed her onto the street.

"Spring?" she echoed with a sarcastic giggle, as the actor skidded on an icy spot. Quickly, she glanced up between drab buildings at the bleak gray sky; a few stinging little grains of snow were falling. They settled on Larry's shoulders and face and on his bare head. Only a fierce admonition to herself kept Anette from reaching up to wipe them from her slightly wavy dark hair. "It's dead winter and I still feel guilty."

They stepped from the curb into a cab. "Well, don't!" her companion told her with certainty. "The only plot seems to be 'Weep for Wednesday.' And you will." He ordered the driver, "Go straight up Michigan avenue." Then turned to the hazel-eyed girl. "So relax and enjoy—"
"The beautiful day," Anette inserted in a gentle taunt.
A responsive grin lighted his face, then he sobered. In fact, he looked almost angry. "Don't you think it is a beautiful day? Well, don't you?" He immediately demanded a second time. His gaze was hard against her cheek.

For an instant Anette looked away, then felt her eyes being drawn back and she again met his gaze which hadn't once wavered. "Yes," she said simply. "I do."
He closed his eyes and repeated her words in a whisper. "I do. Spoken like a bride at the altar."
There came that ridiculous lurch of her heart again, that crazy hot lurch of absolute ecstasy. They were crossing the bridge and curving gently about the Wrigley building. "Where is the tea dance?"
"At the Drake," Larry murmured. "A private one. Lois Lyndon, the stomach pill heiress, is giving it."
Dismay darkened Anette's voice. "A private one? Oh, she won't like your bringing me."
"I don't care whether she likes it or not," Larry slumped lower and braced his dark head on the back of the cab seat. "If she says anything I'll just go home and it's a cinch she won't like that."

The girl had no answer for such an snobbish lassitude. From her pocket she pulled a small compact and began adjusting the white beret and its matching sport coat.
Laurence Peyton rolled his head to one side to watch her. His remonstrance was lazy. "Stop that. Women always dig for mirrors and start fixing their faces so men will spout the stock phrase, 'Don't do that. You're pretty enough already.' Well, that's over; I've said it, and you are so pretty," he said, looking straight ahead up the boulevard instead of at the girl, "so pretty that it infuriates me. Your hair is as black and shining as the lumps of coal Walt and I used to steal when we were little boys trying to keep from freezing to death. Your skin is so white I want to rub dirt on it. I want to pull out your eyelashes one by one."

Anette laughed, none too steadily. "And knock out all my teeth, I suppose, and whack off the end of my nose?"
"I'll bet you think I'm crazy," "Oh, I can't." But for a moment

Two hours later, when they sat in a quiet booth, having toasted sandwiches and coffee, Anette tried to decide which part of the dazzling afternoon had been most fun. They had ridden through the Park, Larry making mild verbal love, then walked on cleared paths between banks of snow to the zoo to watch the lions and tigers roar over tremendous slabs of beef. From there, they had zipped back to the tea dance, where Larry took her into the hotel flower shop and pinned five chaste green orchids on her as if they were so many weeds, then led her to Lois Lyndon's party, seeming to take delight in his hostess' not too carefully controlled displeasure.

To Lois' older brother, it had been quite another story. While Larry rapidly became the center of a flattering circle, blond-haired Lyndon maneuvered Anette onto the dance floor and managed to obtain her name, address and telephone number during the fractional interval necessary for Larry to free himself and cut in.
From then on, despite the demands of feminine admirers, Larry danced with her often, danced beautifully, just as she had known to one side to watch her. His remonstrance was lazy. "Stop that. Women always dig for mirrors and start fixing their faces so men will spout the stock phrase, 'Don't do that. You're pretty enough already.' Well, that's over; I've said it, and you are so pretty," he said, looking straight ahead up the boulevard instead of at the girl, "so pretty that it infuriates me. Your hair is as black and shining as the lumps of coal Walt and I used to steal when we were little boys trying to keep from freezing to death. Your skin is so white I want to rub dirt on it. I want to pull out your eyelashes one by one."

Anette laughed, none too steadily. "And knock out all my teeth, I suppose, and whack off the end of my nose?"
"I'll bet you think I'm crazy," "Oh, I can't." But for a moment

"Isn't there anything in your past to make you cry?" he asked.

"Mildly cannibalistic at any rate—" She noticed suddenly, "There's the Drake!"
"I know," her companion responded casually. "We'll get around to that later." He rapped on the glass partition. "Hey!" Go straight on to the park. "It's spring there." Chuckling at the flabbergasted expression and doubtfully squinted eyes of their driver, Larry sank back beside Anette. "Right there is one person who knows darn well I'm crazy."

Anette shook her head. "I don't even remember my parents—and I've never had a dog."
"Well, go on," he prodded curiously.
With her forefinger the girl traced the stenciled rose petals design on her coffee cup. "No dogs—no sweethearts."
"Not even Walt?"
Amused incredulity flashed across her white face. "Walt? Walt took out my tonsils the first week I was in Chicago, simply because I'm so poor I had to go to the clinic. I've known him less than two months."

"Which means nothing. You've known me less than two days." The tingling in her cheeks undoubtedly changed their color, because Larry went on softly, "How old are you, anyway?"
"Twenty-two," she replied quickly, as she opened her purse and explored it with complete absorption. "I see—and now, how old are you?" He grabbed a tiny pair of manicure scissors from the purse's incoherent contents and threatened her. "Let's have the truth, Miss Winslow!"

Not looking at him, she admitted with half-ashamed reluctance, "Seventeen."
"That practically makes me Granddaddy Peyton. I'm 28." Still holding the small scissors, he stretched, and before Anette was aware of his purpose, snipped a curl from her hair. "There. Take back your old scissors. I don't need them now." He balanced the blue-black curl in his palm, then carefully placed it in his wallet.

It was childish, as childish as molasses taffy. As silly as hearts and initials carved in an oak tree. As ridiculous as a moment from a very bad play. Young as she was, Anette knew all that. Yet suddenly it seemed the most original and sentimental and important gesture in the whole world.
She looked at him and whispered, "Are you teasing me?"
He took both her hands in his. "No, darling. Oh, I know it is strictly ham. It's so old-fashioned even Verrazano would turn up his nose. But I simply had to have this little lock of hair."

Session On Americanism
Conducted By Auxiliary

Unit Adds Four To
Roster; Business
Handled

An "Americanism" program was presented Tuesday at the meeting of the American Legion auxiliary in the post room of Memorial hall with Mrs. Charles Gusman, chairman of the auxiliary committee, in charge.

After discussion of the meaning of "Americanism" by the leader, group singing of patriotic songs, and readings on Washington by Mrs. William Hegele and Mrs. Gusman were enjoyed. A report was made also of the visit of Mrs. Gusman to the sixth grade of High street building and of the Lincoln program presented.

Mrs. Hegele conducted the ritualistic opening of the unit, and received the reports of Mrs. Robert Young, secretary, and Mrs. Gladys Wiggins, treasurer. Plans were made for help for families of veterans in which sickness was reported and it was voted to send flowers to a member of the unit who is ill.

Mrs. William Betts Jr., Mrs. Besse Simson, Mrs. Paul Beers and Mrs. Phil Radcliff were four new members received at this meeting.

Mrs. Ella Lindsey Bostwick of Columbus, a charter member of the Circleville unit, spoke briefly, telling of the work of the Columbus unit of which she is a member.

The auxiliary planned to continue the series of successful games parties.

The mid-winter conference to be March 7 at the Deshler-Wallick, Columbus, was discussed and many planned to attend the session, no delegates being appointed.

It was decided to drop the plan of sponsoring a class in first aid, but to support the Red Cross in this work which is headed by Miss Margaret Hunsicker.

During the social hour, Mrs. James Cook, Miss Maggie Mavis and Mrs. Goldie Byers served a salad course at a table centered with a nest of small flags. Patriotic party appointments were used.

Radford-Petty

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Petty, Ashville, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Annabelle, to Mr. Masar R. Radford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Radford, Minersville, O.

The ceremony took place January 24, 1942, at Louisa, Ky., with the Rev. Mr. Elrod of the Methodist church officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Radford will be at home after March 1 at 2347 Parkwood avenue, Columbus.

Bridge Club

Mrs. Ned Harden and Miss Harriet Harman were substitute players Tuesday when Miss Marjorie Mader entertained her contract bridge club at her home on East Main street.

After several rounds of the game, Mrs. Harden and Miss Eleanor Dreishbach were found to hold high scores.

Mrs. James Reichelderfer of East Union street will entertain the group next Tuesday.

Star Grange

The third and fourth degrees were conferred on Mrs. Virginia Rouark and Miss Margaret Dunlap at the meeting of the Star grange Tuesday in Monroe school auditorium. Sixty-five grangers witnessed the excellent work of the degree team of the grange.

C. M. Reid, worthy master, conducted the ritualistic opening ceremonies. Plans were discussed for holding a cake contest, and it was decided that Star grange would have one at the next regular meeting, March 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fisher served lunch during the social period.

Mission Study Group

The last meeting of the Mission study group of the Presbyterian church will be Thursday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Grace Wentworth, West Union street.

Saltcreek P. T. A.

More than 70 members and guests attended the meeting of Saltcreek Parent-Teacher association Tuesday in the school auditorium and heard a fine variety program following the business session. Mrs. George Ruhl was in the chair.

Chester Roush, Mrs. Merrill Imbler and Mrs. Clayton Bowsher were announced as members of the program committee for the next session and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gildersleeve, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Strous and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Spencer will provide lunch.

A saxophone duet by Mrs. Wayne Luckhart and Miss Sara Jane Rector opened the program, group singing of patriotic songs following; playlet, "Why Buy Defense Stamps," Fay O'Hara and Tommy Hartough; violin solo, Erma Bowsher; vocal duet, Max and David Luckhart.

Refreshments of doughnuts and cider concluded the affair.

Mrs. Marion's Class

The regular meeting of Mrs. Marion's class of the Methodist church will be Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. David Goldschmidt, Atwater avenue, instead of Monday night. The meeting night has been postponed because of conflict with the time of meeting of the Red Cross first aid class. Mrs. Goldschmidt will be assisted by Mrs. Dan McClain, Mrs. Marcus Crago and Miss Marie Sayre.

Defense Talk

An excellent talk on "National Defense" was heard Tuesday by a representative group of Republican women of Circleville and Pickaway county when T. E. Wilson, chairman of the Circleville Defense council, appeared as guest speaker before the Federated Republican Women's club at Memorial hall. Holding the close attention of the group as he listed the plans of the council, he especially emphasized the part each woman of the county might take in the work.

Miss Anna Florence, club president, conducted the business session during which plans were made for monthly meetings of the organization. More than 25 members of the club gathered for the occasion.

St. Paul Aid

The Ladies Aid society of St. Paul Evangelical church of Washington township will meet Thursday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Edwin Leist of that community.

Eastern Star Marks Its Anniversary Tuesday Eve

An unusually interesting program marking the 44th anniversary of the founding of Circleville chapter No. 90, Order of the Eastern Star, was enjoyed Tuesday at the regular session in Masonic temple.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Neuding and Mrs. Emma Fox, charter members, were honored in a short talk by Mrs. E. L. Tolbert, chaplain, and presented red roses. Mrs. Irwin Boggs, past grand matron and first worthy matron of the chapter, was recognized in a fine tribute by Mrs. Tolbert. Mrs. Boggs was absent because of illness.

Mrs. Tom Acord, worthy matron, was in the chair for the opening ceremonies. Miss Marie L. Hamilton, past grand matron, and Mrs. Lawrence Johnson, deputy grand matron, were escorted to the East. Each spoke briefly.

During the business meeting conducted by the worthy matron, Mrs. George Valentine, president of the Merry-Makers' sewing club, announced a meeting for Friday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Fred Moeller, Lancaster pike.

Mrs. Herman Hill reminded members to take cancelled sales tax stamps to each regular meeting. After the ritualistic close of chapter, Mrs. Tolbert presented a splendid patriotic program. "A Tribute to Abraham Lincoln" and an article, "The Day after Gettysburg" were two readings by Mrs. Lawrence Johnson. Joanne Hill played a group of southern melodies.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. C. D. Bennett, Mrs. Addie Squires, Mrs. H. O. Harbaugh, Mrs. L. E. Foreman and Mrs. Clifton E. Mahaffey.

STARS SAY—

For Wednesday, February 25 EXCELLENT auguries are found in this day's astrological map, for a definite advance on the road to progress, achievement, promotion and successful enterprise. It is a time for forging ahead to high goals, with the promise of cooperation and solid support from influential persons in both business and professional ambitions. Moneys may increase and credits be put on a secure basis by sound business planning, as well as speculative enterprise. Travel, change, litigation, writings, agencies all thrive, but guard against fraud, treachery and intrigue.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of excellent opportunity for reaching high goals of achievement and satisfaction, through sound business policies, professional cleverness and financial strategies in which change and speculation play a part, and superiors, influential persons and trusted friends assist. Be alert to snares or hidden plots from treacherous sources. Young folks are favored and there may be happy change, travel, and success through writings, literary or artistic pursuits.

A child born on this day will have great versatility for success in business, professional, literary or artistic pursuits. It will find high favor and support from those in influential places, but may suffer from imposition.

No. 40
Depreciation Allowances

The amount to be recovered by depreciation is the cost of the property, if acquired by purchase after February 28, 1913. If acquired by purchase prior to March 1, 1913, the basis is the cost of the property, less depreciation sustained prior to March 1, 1913, or the fair market value on March 1, 1913, whichever is greater.

The proper allowance for depreciation is that amount which should be set aside for the taxable year in accordance with a reasonably consistent plan (not necessarily a uniform rate) whereby the aggregate amount so set aside, plus the salvage value, will at the end of the useful life of the property equal the cost or other basis of the property.

The depreciation rate of a building is not based upon the number of years it will stand before being condemned and razed but on the number of years it will remain habitable or serviceable, for the purpose for which constructed.

If the taxpayer builds a new building, the period over which depreciation may be claimed begins at the time the building is completed and capable of being used. Buildings under construction are not subject to a depreciation allowance.

If it is clearly shown that, because of economic or other conditions, property must be abandoned at a date prior to the end of its normal useful life, so that depreciation deductions alone are insufficient to return the cost or other basis, a reasonable deduction for obsolescence may be allowed in addition to depreciation. No deduction for obsolescence is permitted because, in the opinion of the taxpayer, the property may become obsolete at some future date.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Girl Scouts of Troop 4 met recently in the post room of Memorial hall. The instruction period was first aid and articles 10 and 12 of home nursing were finished. We learned about the care and application of water bottles, ice and hot.

Sunday, February 22, scouts of Troops 4 and 1 attended the Methodist church. Besides being George Washington's birthday, it was that of Lord and Lady Baden-

Powell. Lord Baden-Powell was a good friend of Juliette Low, and inspired her to found scouting for girls in the United States. In his honor, this day was set aside as International Thinking Day among Girl Scouts. On this day scouts all over the world think and pray for other scouts in other places. Baden-Powell originated scouting in England; his sister, Girl Guides for girls in England.

A collection was taken for the Juliette Low fund by Ann Cur-tain. This money is sent to national headquarters to be used to make awards for Girl Scouts and Guides in South American and Latin American countries to keep up inter-national friendship. Part goes for refugee Girl Scouts in war torn countries.

CAGERS DRILL FOR BIG TILTS

County Teams Await Bell To Start Semi-Finals Friday Evening

Pickaway county cage teams, moving into the semi-final round in their thrilling tournament, planned their last hard drills Wednesday afternoon in preparation for Friday's play.

Four varsity aggregations, Washington, Walnut, Pickaway and Scioto, remain in competition, and a survey of opinion around the county concerning which will be the ultimate winner would find predictions about equal for each team.

General belief is that the team which gets "hot" will go through. On their records there is little to choose, one being as good as the other.

The Washington-Walnut affray starts festivities Friday evening in the Atlanta gym at 8 o'clock, a consolation reserve game between Walnut and Pickaway seconds is next, scheduled at 9, and the Pickaway-Scioto joust is carded at 10 o'clock.

Winners will play Saturday night.

MT. UNION WINS FROM OBERLIN; CAPITAL ON TOP

By International News Service
Mt. Union's championship-bound Purple Raiders considered themselves lucky to be still leading the Ohio Conference and state basketball races today.

Under-rated Oberlin, in a se-saw battle tied Mt. Union seven times last night, before it finally succumbed to the Purple Raiders, 47 to 45. Led by Charlie Joachim, who scored 15 points, Mt. Union was forced to fight for every point.

Over at Columbus, Capital's cagers barely managed to eke out a victory over Ohio Northern as the second-place Lutherans in both races ended their current season in a blaze of record-breaking feats in their own 36-year-old cage history.

Capital trailed the Polar Bears at the half, 29 to 21, but fought their way to victory in the last half. A one-handed shot by Bob Kalish in the last two minutes of the game produced Capital's 14th win of the season, their 12th in the conference, against a lone defeat earlier in the season by Denison.

Mt. Union and Capital still pace the conference and state circuits, the two leaders tied in the conference race, but Mt. Union plays its remaining game against Kenyon Friday night and should bowl over its opposition easily.

Bob Geist, lanky center, broke Capital's individual scoring record, set by Paul Weaver in 1937-38 campaign at 235. Shy 13 points before the northern tilt, Geist meshed 18 points last night to establish a new record for Capital cagers at 241 points.

Tigers Eke Out One-Point Victory Over London Five In Home Season's Finale

Circleville high Tigers and London Red Raiders, two of the most evenly matched basketball teams to take the local court this year, battled to a 24-23 finish Tuesday evening with the Red and Black copping the single point victory after a ding-dong affray that came mighty near being lost.

The Red Raiders fought from the first whistle, and appeared to be winning, only to have the Red and Black put on a last quarter drive that netted the victory. With only a minute remaining in the third quarter London held a four point edge, but two quick Tiger buckets deadlocked it at 17-all as the last canto got under way.

The Red and Black took a 19-17 lead, then fell behind 19 to 21. A field goal tied it and a free toss

WHITE SOX TAKE OFF FOR CAMP IN WEST

CHICAGO, Feb. 25 — Twelve Chicago White Sox players were on hand today for their departure shortly after noon by streamliner bound for their spring training camp in Pasadena, Cal.

Fourteen other members of the party included club attaches, coaches and newspapermen. Two of the travelers were additions to the Sox roster, Wally Moses, former Athletic outfielder, who came to the Sox by trade this winter, and Bing Miller, former coach for the Detroit Tigers, who will perform the same service for the Sox.

The playing personnel included Pitchers John Rigney, Ed Smith, Joe Haynes, Lee Ross, Orval Grove, Ed Weiland and Pete Appleton; Catcher Mike Tresh; Outfielders Moses and Taft Wright, and infielders Bob Kennedy and Don Kolloway. They are due in Pasadena Friday.

The veteran pitcher Ted Lyons drove to the coast last week with Bill Dietrich.

DETROIT TEAM SCORES EDGE OVER BROOKLYN

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—The Detroit Red Wings, capitalizing on penalties against their opponents, registered a 3 to 2 triumph over the Brooklyn American before 7,185 fans tonight for their fourth victory in a row.

The win, giving the fifth-place wings a four-point edge over Brooklyn in the standings, dampened Amerk hopes of getting into the play-offs. Fifteen penalties were handed out during the rough contest.

PASTOR SCORES KNOCKOUT OVER LEM FRANKLIN

New Yorker Puts Self Back In Running For Title Chance

By GERALD HEALEY

CLEVELAND, Feb. 25—Bob Pastor was proof today that they do come back after Joe Louis beats them. The proof lay in his surprise eighth round knockout of Lem Franklin, Cleveland Negro heavyweight, before 13,278 fight fans in Cleveland arena last night.

Facing the murderous fists of lithe and tawny Franklin, Pastor made his usual slow start but kept out of range of Lem's leather dynamite, bicycling his way out of danger and wearing Franklin down for the finishing blows.

Knocked out by Louis once after staying the limit with him in their first fight, Pastor has been coming on since, but last night he was the underdog in the betting, the wagering crowd believing that Franklin's superior punching power would cool off the New Yorker before many rounds passed.

Giving away 16 pounds to the 197 pound Franklin, Bob kept in close in the early rounds, never letting the Negro get a clear crack at his chin although Franklin did rock him with two stiff rights as the bout opened.

Apparently bewildered by his opponent's retreating style and unable to fathom Bob's shifty side-to-side maneuvering, Franklin started missing his punches and by plenty as he tried desperately for the finisher.

Pastor stayed on his bicycle and there was little damage, but he opened up in the seventh with ripping jabs and a right to Lem's face sent him back on his heels. Pastor was the aggressor now as Lem stolidly took everything he had. The steam was out of Franklin's blows now and he was ready for Bob's eighth round slashing.

The end came with Franklin trying hard to rise and just not making it. His tired legs and weary body didn't have it anymore, his battered head couldn't take the merciless strafing of Pastor's blows. Franklin was helpless as he finally rose after the ten count and he couldn't have continued had he come back to his feet on a shorter count.

The biggest crowd since the Billy Stripling-Max Schmeling bout in Cleveland in 1931 paid $52,457, largest indoor fight purse in Cleveland's history.

And the result definitely shot Pastor back into the ranks of contenders for Louis' title. Franklin was figured to be a year away from a fight with the champion and the beating Pastor gave him proved that contention.

An important departure this year inaugurated by the Ohio department of highways, which has charge of license plate distribution, is to make truck, trailer and farm plates available in each county instead of the 14 stations where these were obtainable in years past. Much inconvenience is expected to be eliminated by this move.

Registrar Wallace believes that if there is any drop in registrations this year it will be very small so motorists are urged to get their license "tags" early and to avoid the last minute rush, standing in line and waiting.

CHECK CHARGES PLACED ON FILE IN CITY COURT

Charges of issuing a forged check for $4.65 to Charles Mummaw, Clinton street, were filed in Mayor Ben H. Gordon's court Tuesday against Ferdinand Rose, 25, one of the three men being held by Chillicothe police for writing a score of bad checks in Ross county.

The charges were filed by Mummaw, who identified Rose as the man who had passed the check to him.

At the same time Police Chief William McCrady said that he had in his possession six checks totaling more than $50, which he believed were passed by the trio. Five of the checks were issued in Circleville and one in Kingston.

All of the checks were signed "John Miller" who lives on the Chillicothe pike and for whom the three worked last summer. Sheriff Charles Radcliff has received confessions from the three men for passing five other checks in the county.

Others held in Chillicothe are Paul Rose, 20, a brother of Ferdinand, and Clarence Cox, 41, a stepfather.

O. A. BUTCHER DEAD

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon in Lancaster for Orrie Allen Butcher, 63, former school teacher and manager of the Lancaster Methodist campground, who died Sunday. Mr. Butcher was an acquaintance of numerous Circleville and Pickaway county folk who have frequented the campground in the last several years.

England's Primate

Archbishop of Canterbury

The Most Rev. Dr. William Temple, 60, above, former archbishop of York, is the new archbishop of Canterbury and primate of all England. He succeeds Dr. Cosmo Gordon Lang, 77, resigned because of advanced age. Dr. Temple's father was archbishop of Canterbury from 1896 to 1903.

MORE JAPANESE BEING REMOVED OFF COAST AREA

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25—Thousands of enemy aliens—mostly Japanese—were on the move up and down the Pacific coast today, forbidden to enter some 80 forbidden zones by the government.

The deadline for evacuation from the strategic areas having passed at midnight, the FBI began its huge task of determining if any axis nationals remain in the forbidden zones.

What to do with the thousands already ordered out—and with thousands of others who soon may be evacuated—meanwhile offered a knotty problem which government agencies were trying desperately to solve as the demand for immediate evacuation of all Japanese citizens and aliens from coastal areas became increasingly vigorous.

Resettlement of Japanese truck farmers and fruit ranchers from the rich agricultural areas of California, so that their labor could be utilized was under consideration, but only the state of Idaho has shown any willingness to absorb any of them.

Authorities from that state have indicated they would find places for sugar beet workers, "at the going rates" so long as they were not located near any defense installations.

Throughout the other Rocky mountain areas, however, feeling against the use of Japanese has been strong, with New Mexico, Montana and Colorado all declining to offer any welcome, and many influential groups insisting that no Japanese be permitted to settle in their respective communities.

Evacuation from the forbidden zones was accomplished without incident from the Mexican border to the Canadian line.

SPIRITUAL TOUR

Phil Spitalny, whose all-girl orchestra is completing its sixth year on the air, will begin within the next two weeks a tour of Army camps and naval bases throughout the southeast.

With Miami and a well-earned week's vacation as their goal, the band will play at least ten service engagements and will originate three of their coast-to-coast Sunday night broadcasts from military centers. Definitely set are Fort Bragg, N. C., Camp Stewart, Ga., the Marine Base at Quantico and the Naval Air Station at Jacksonville, Fla. Other camp dates are now being set by advance agents of the orchestra.

BING BACK

The big news about the Music Hall airing of Thursday at 9 p. m. is that Bing Crosby will resume his duties after an absence from two shows. While he was away, Bingham was participating in a series of golf tournaments for the benefit of the Red Cross.

On hand to welcome Bing back will be Paul Robeson, film actor Alan Jenkins and Hank Luisetti, one of the greatest basketball stars of all time.

RADIO BRIEFS

For years Jack Benny has had a firm rule that no visitors could attend rehearsals of his programs. However, the Sunday night jester has just banished that rule and for a good reason. For the duration of the war soldiers and sailors in uniform will be admitted to his Sunday morning practice sessions in groups of 25 to 50.

Verlye Mill, harpist for "Joyce Jordan—Girl Interne," plans to return to that program within a week or two. Verlye recently gave birth to a third son, thereby causing many lost bets in the "Joyce Jordan" cast. Most of them had wagered it would be a girl!

OHIO OFFICIALS HUNTING KILLER OF RAILROADER

MIDDLETOWN, Feb. 25—

Southwestern Ohio authorities today launched a search for the slayer of W. G. Faber, 56-year-old long missing New York Central railroad conductor whose body was found in the hydraulic canal at Middletown.

Coroner Garret J. Boone, after an autopsy, ruled that the Cleveland died from stab wounds and that he was either dead or dying when his body was thrown from his train into the canal the night of last December 29.

The victim's left lung had been collapsed by the injuries, apparently inflicted with a long knife that entered the body below the left arm, Coroner Boone reported.

Faber's disappearance from his train was first noted when it arrived at Franklin, O. Trainmen reported he had gone to a dead-end coach in the rear to investigate reports a vagrant was riding there.

In the coach, his trampled and dust-covered cap was found as well as other evidence of a struggle, investigators reported at the time.

The New York Central tracks cross the canal about a mile from where the body was found by Jacob Barnickie, gatekeeper on the canal, as he cleaned debris from the canal gates. Identification was made by a blue uniform and railroad tickets in the pockets of the victim.

RETIRED N. & W. EMPLOYE DIES IN GROVE CITY

George Wrightsel, 75, employed by the Norfolk and Western railway company for 30 years, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Elvin Brown, 5273 Haight road, Grove City, Wednesday at 3:10 a. m. Mr. Wrightsel had been failing in health for several months, his immediate death following complications.

Formerly a resident of Circleville, Mr. Wrightsel lived at 145 East Corwin street until six months ago, when he removed to the home of his daughter.

Born February 28, 1867, in Jackson township, he was the son of George and Sarah Jane Nichols Wrightsel. He married Josephine Burton, who died in 1924. Besides his daughter, Mrs. Brown, he leaves a son, Shirley E., 237 East Mount street, Columbus, and one grandson.

He was a member of the Trinity Lutheran church.

Funeral services will be held at the Deffenbaugh funeral home on East Main street Friday at 2:30 p. m., the Rev. George Troutman of the Trinity Lutheran church officiating and burial in Forest cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home until the time of service.

panies are fighting this new pipeline. The proposed pipe-line will be a common carrier. In other words, like a railroad, it will carry anybody's oil.

To get the significance of this, it must be remembered that pipelines are the means by which the big oil companies control prices and dominate the industry. A major part of U. S. oil fields are pioneered and developed by independent wild-catters. But after developing a field, they can only market their oil through pipelines, and those are in the hands of the big companies.

Even the new pipe-line from Baton Rouge to Greensboro, N. C., to be used for gasoline, is owned 50-50 by Shell and Standard.

But the proposed new lines from Wichita Falls, Tex. to Georgia will carry crude oil from any company.

Note:—Mr. Ickes, usually a crusader for the little fellow, isn't enthusiastic about the independent pipe-line. Some say this is because his Deputy Oil Administrator, Ralph Davies, is a Standard Oil executive; some say it is because the promoter of the independent line, Aldace Walker, is the brother-in-law of Chip Robert, unbeloved by Mr. Ickes.

DEWEY AND COMMUNISTS

Some members of New York's Board of Higher Education are convinced that Crime-Crusader Tom Dewey has made a political deal with the Communists as a step toward being elected Governor of New York this fall.

For some time, Communist teachers have been a headache to New York's four city colleges—Queens, Hunter, Brooklyn and City of New York. So a committee consisting of Ira Hirschmann and Lawson Stone, son of Chief Justice Stone, was appointed to give suspected Communists a fair trial, and if guilty, oust them. Hardest clamor for ousting the Communist teachers was Charles Tuttle, active in Republican politics, an opponent of FDR in the 1930 race for the governorship of New York, and a strong Dewey man. Tuttle, a member of the Board of Higher Education, has constantly attacked the Board for not taking drastic action against the Communists long ago. He even wanted to fire a big bunch at once.

The other day, however, Tuttle approached Chairman Hirschmann of the special committee on Communist teachers and said:

"I've been talking to Mr. X who wants to settle all this Communist business. And I think he's got a fine basis for a settlement."

"Why is it your job to settle this?" asked Hirschmann.

"Well, I couldn't refuse to negotiate, could I?"

When Hirschmann reported this to Lawson Stone, the latter's comment was: "Dewey has made a deal with the Communists."

Since then, Dr. Bella Dodd, representative of the Teachers' Union, has been negotiating with Hirschmann and Stone regarding Communist teachers who face trial, and proposing that a few of the more vehement teachers be ousted and all the others have the charges against them dismissed.

After she made the proposal, Hirschmann and Stone popped this question:

"How can we get a proposal like this by Tuttle. He's been yelling his head off to prosecute these charges."

"Oh," replied Dr. Dodd, "we've got him all fixed up."

NOTE:—In his last race for Governor of New York, Tom Dewey lost out by only about 100,000 votes. There are just about 100,000 votes controlled by the Communist party in New York.
